INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Shareholder of
Old Colony Investment Group, Inc.
Boston, Massachusetts

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Old Colony Investment Group, Inc. as of December 31, 2003 and the related statements of income, changes in ownership equity and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance accepted auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Old Colony Investment Group, Inc. as of December 31, 2003 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained on Pages 11-14 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2003

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

Old Colony Investment Group, Inc. is engaged in the business of providing discount brokerage services. The Company does not directly hold accounts for its clients and operates on fully disclosed basis.

ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Company's policy is to prepare its financial statements on the basis of generally accepted accounting principles. This basis of accounting involves the application of accrual accounting; consequently, revenues and gains are recognized when earned and expenses and loss are recognized when incurred. Financial statements items are recorded at historical costs and often involve the utilization of estimates. Consequently, financial statement items do not necessarily represent current values.

The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires the use of estimates and assumptions regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. Such estimates primarily relate to unsettled transactions and events as of the date of the financial statements. Accordingly, upon settlement, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

The significant accounting policies utilized by the Company are described below:

CLEARING AGREEMENTS

The Company has a clearing agreement with National Financial Services, LLC, whereby, National Financial Services, LLC clears transactions for Company customers and carries the accounts of such customers on a fully disclosed basis as customers of National Financial Services, LLC. Accordingly, the Company does not carry customers' accounts and does not receive, deliver, hold cash or securities in connection with such transactions.

SECURITY TRANSACTIONS AND RECOGNITION OF INCOME

Security transactions and the recognition of related income and expense are recorded on a trade date basis.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the net capital provisions of Rule 15c3-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Company is required to maintain a minimum net capital, as defined under such provision. Net capital and the related net capital ratio may fluctuate on a daily basis. Under these rules the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital must not exceed 15 to 1, and the Company must maintain net capital of $5,000. The Company's net capital was $6,673 and the Company's net capital ratio was .0 to 1 at December 31, 2003.

CASH EQUIVALENTS

The Company has established a policy of defining cash equivalents as all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less. The Company has money market accounts with various business financial companies which have significant cash balances.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

ON INTERNAL CONTROL

REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17 A-5

To the Shareholder of
Old Colony Investment Group, Inc.
Boston, Massachusetts

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Old Colony Investment Group, Inc. for the year ended December 31, 2003, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5 (g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by Old Colony Investment Group, Inc. that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5 (g), in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a) (11) and the procedures for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

The CPA. Never Underestimate the Value.<sup>SM</sup>

To the Shareholder of
Old Colony Investment Group, Inc.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2003, to meet the commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the securities and exchange commission, the New York Stock Exchange and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and should not be used for any other purpose.
